3.1(c)(1)

HOUSING FACILITIES, GENERAL.

 The majority of feeders in the kennel are rusted along the lip of the feeder. Once rust develops the feeders can no longer be effectively cleaned and sanitized. These feeders need to be replaced to facilitate cleaning of the feeders for the health of the dogs.

 Several areas of wood inside the shelter boxes are chewed and the area is no longer impervious to moisture. These areas of wood need to be sanded and resealed to keep the area impervious to moisture to facilitate cleaning and sanitizing.

 There are a few nails protruding into the shelter box from the top wood beam. These nails need to be seared off or covered to protect the animals from potential injury.
