3.1(c)(1)

Housing facilities, general.

Several of the enclosures have sections where the plastic surfaces have been excessively scratched by the dogs leaving these areas rough with deep ridges. These ridges can trap dirt and debris impacting the ability to clean and sanitize the enclosure. These surface areas need to be addressed to facilitate cleaning and sanitization of the enclosures.

3.11(b)(2)

Cleaning, sanitization, housekeeping, and pest control.

The plastic flaps between the sheltered box and outdoor run need to be addressed. There is a layer of grime along the flap and along the base of the door that is not being cleaned and sanitized every two weeks. These plastic flaps and areas of the primary enclosure need to be cleaned and sanitized at least once every two weeks for the overall health of the dogs.

3.13(a)(4)

Veterinary care for dogs.

Two dogs a Poodle named "Kobe" and a Bernadoodle named "Benie" have matted fur along their belly, and legs. Per the PVC, these dogs should be groomed in the fall and spring and then checked as needed. Matted fur pulls and separates from the skin and can trap moisture and debris. This matted fur reduces the insulation factor and can cause potential skin irritation. These dogs should be groomed more frequently between fall and spring to ensure their fur coats can adequately protect them in the winter months and for their comfort and well being.
