2.40(b)(2)

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

A female Yorkie (microchip # 990000001614655) had a considerable amount of tartar buildup on both sides of its mouth. Upon closer examination, there was a loose piece on the right side of its mouth. I was not able to determine whether it was a loose piece of tartar or a loose tooth covered in tartar. I also observed a small amount of red fluid coming from this area in what I assume to be blood.

Dental issues can be painful and the mouth/gums can become infected. In addition the infection can become systemic causing further health issues. The dog needs to be seen by the Attending Veterinarian and treated per his/her instructions.

Correct by 4/16/19.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.

End of report.
