Watering.

Water receptacles are not being kept clean and sanitary. Approximately six water bottles that provide water access for approximately six individual chinchilla enclosures contained a green substance adhered to the inside. At the bottom of the water bottles there was sediment, but the water itself was clear. Insufficient cleaning of water receptacles can lead to disease and illness for the regulated animals. Correct by ensuring all water receptacles are kept clean and sanitary. Correct by 14-APR-2026.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the Licensee.
