PRIMARY ENCLOSURES.

-The outdoor facility housing adult dogs contains ground enclosures with chat-like gravel flooring. The majority of these outdoor enclosures have flooring that is wet and mud-like in a large portion of the enclosures. According to the National Weather Service, there had been a light rain, fog and/or mist in the area for much of the previous day and into the morning of inspection. Many of these enclosures also had large chunks of frozen ice, which had been removed from the water receptacles and left inside the enclosures to melt. Many of the dogs housed in these enclosures had dirty and very wet fur mostly on their paws, legs, chest and on abdominal areas. It appeared difficult for some of the dogs to walk through the enclosures without walking in the wet and muddy flooring. When dogs' hair coats become wet and dirty it can decrease the comfort and well-being of the animals, increase the risk of hypothermia as well as increase the risk of skin lesions and other disease hazards. The licensee must ensure that all primary enclosures are constructed and maintained so that all the dogs remain clean and dry. To be corrected by: January 11, 2018.

*Note - The two Maltese (0A02492440 and 037890890), the Dachshund (0A02093065) and the Schnauzer (0A02624979), which were included on the report for the October 25, 2017 inspection under 2.40 (b)(2), had been addressed.

The inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensees.
