3.1(c)(3)

HOUSING FACILITIES, GENERAL.

There was an excessive amount of feces in about 25% of the enclosures, and excessive build-up of feces on the wash downs under the enclosures. The fecal build-up in the enclosures was enough where the dogs could not move around freely without stepping in it. The wash downs were full of fecal material covering most of the wash down with a several inch thick layer. Licensee said they haven't been able to clean because the drain pipes have been frozen for about a month. Accumulations of waste products increase the risk of disease hazards and create an unhealthy environment for the animals. The licensee must ensure that all waste material is removed from the primary enclosures daily as required and from under the enclosure as often as necessary to satisfy husbandry standards, but at least every two weeks.
