2.75(b)(1)

Records: Dealers and exhibitors.

- During the review of records, the licensee was unable to provide complete disposition records for birds. Cage cards are used to document births; however, these records are discarded after rearing and are not maintained. The facility tracks the number of birds sold but does not maintain records of birds that died or were euthanized.
Failure to maintain complete acquisition and disposition records interferes with the ability to accurately identify animals and trace their movement. The licensee shall make, keep, and maintain records that fully and correctly disclose information concerning regulated animals purchased, born, hatched or otherwise acquired, as well as animals transported, sold, euthanized, or otherwise disposed.
Correct from 25 September 2026 onward

3.153(a)(2)

Primary enclosures.

- Multiple juvenile enclosures had an insufficient number of perches available for the number of birds housed in the enclosure. One juvenile cage had no perches at all. Enclosures housing perching birds must have a sufficient number of appropriate perches to comfortably hold all birds at the same time. Lack of perching space can be a potential source of stress to the enclosed animals. Licensee must ensure that each cage has an appropriate number of birds for that space.
Correct by: 30 September 2026

3.158(a)(1)

Cleaning, sanitization, housekeeping, and pest control.

- Many enclosures throughout the facility had an excessive accumulation of debris, dust, feathers, and cobwebs on the outside of the cages. At least two cages housing juvenile birds had perches that were heavily soiled and crusted with waste and debris. Excreta and waste must be removed from under and around primary enclosures as often as necessary to prevent excessive accumulation of waste, to prevent soiling of the birds contained in the primary enclosures, and to reduce disease hazards, insects, pests, and odors. The facility must clean around the cages and must ensure that all cages are regularly and adequately cleaned on an ongoing basis.
