ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

The medical record of dog #4575, an adult brown and white hound mix, age unknown, contains documentation dated November 9, 2011 that the teeth need to be cleaned because of heavy tartar. This dog is still housed at the facility and has not had any dental procedures performed.

During this inspection this dog's teeth were observed to have a brown to tannish hard material covering the surface of the upper molars and upper canines on both sides of the mouth. The gums were reddened adjacent to the affected teeth. The gums above the canine teeth were pulled up and away. These signs are consistent with dental disease which can be painful and lead to systemic health problems.

This same dog was observed continuously circling to the right at a fast pace. The circling continued at a slower pace when the dog was unaware of being observed. The circling behavior was documented on November 28, 2012 during a behavior assessment of the dog. Management of this behavior consisted of extra socialization which has since been discontinued. It is not documented whether the treatment altered the behavior. This behavior can have physical and/or psychological causes.

The facility must establish and maintain a program of adequate veterinary care that includes prevention, identification and treatment of diagnosed diseases. This dog should be examined by a veterinarian to determine accurate diagnoses and appropriate treatment plans for the described symptoms. Follow up care as directed by the veterinarian should be documented.

Correct by: February 7, 2014.
