HOUSING FACILITIES, GENERAL.

Electric cords connected to shelter heaters for lemurs are on the ground within several lemur enclosures. There is great concern that the animals may be injured if they bite or damage the electrical cords.. A method must be in place to prevent animals from having direct contact with the electric cords to prevent injury or death . CORRECT BY : 1/20/18

There is a broken (split) board on the bottom of wooden pallet in a brown lemur enclosure. Broken boards may trap a limb of an animal or cause other injuries . Enclosures must be maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury. Maintenance issues in lemur enclosures were also a problem on the inspection dated 10/17/17.
